		On 15 February 1952 the Chinese Communist Party Organization Department issued supplementary instructions for reforming Party cell organization during the current Party Revision Campaign. These instructions were sent to the various Party bureaus throughout China, and are summarized as follows:  a. The cell is the nucleus of all Party activities; if it is neglected, the power of the party cannot be effectively utilized. This concept must be clearly understood. Improperly organized cells must be abolished and re-organized in accordance with Party regulations.
٠.		b. Replacement of the Party by administration <sup>1</sup> and support of the Party by administrative orders are indisputable signs that the Party has no leadership ability. This dangerous belief generally exists among lower Party organizations and must be completely eradicated.
e		be substitute the center of Party leaders	Activities in Party organizations above the cell level may not correctly be substituted for activities within the cell. Cell meetings must be the center of Party activities. Party members, however, who disregard Party leadership are disregarding the existence of the Party and must be eliminated relentlessly.
	d. All Party bureaus and sub-bureaus must forward reports on the implem tion of these instructions by all grades of Party committees under jurisdictions within two months.
